DISCUSSING A PLAN TO COLLECT TAXES.

A conference of a committee representing the Chizens' Association of the Fourth and Fith Wards and the Law Committee of the Board of Aldermen of Long Island City was held at the City Hall in Jackson-ave, yesterday. The Citzens' Association was represented by F. H. Wolcott, J. Lee Smith and Sylvester Gray. The members of the Law Committee present were Aldermen Gleason. Rassign and Murray. The subject under discussion was the best method to secure the payment of the large amount of back taxes due the city. son. Rassiga and Minray. The subject under discussion was the best method to secure the payment of the large amount of back taxes due the city. Considerable feeling was manifested because the Aldermen had presented a bill at Albany to accomplish this purpose without giving the Citizens' Association an opportunity to see it. It was assorted that the Aldermen had acted in bad faith. The citizens' bill was forwarded to the Common Council by the Mayor on February 21, and it was at once referred by that body to the Law Committee, where it had remained ever since. In the meantime the Aldermen concected a bill of their own and sent it to Albany last week, ignoring the taxpayers' measure entirely. At the meeting yesterday the Aldermen's bill was read to the members of the citizens' committee, who declared themselves decidedly opposed to many of its provisions. The Aldermen finally agreed to submit their bill and that of the Citizens' Association to the private counsel of the Board, Jesse Johnson, of Brooklyn. If he concluded that the two bills did not conflict with each other the Aldermen would withdraw their bill and advocate the passage of the other.

CRUSHED BENEATH THE CARS.

CRUSHED BENEATH THE CARS.

An accident occurred about 11 a. m. yesterday at the elevated rallroad station at First-ave, and First-st. An old German entered the station about five minutes before the arrival of an up-town train, and he had walked toward the upper end of the platform. When the engine was stopped he tried to get upon the front platform of the first car, but the gate was closed. When the train was in motion he attempted to get on the rear platform, but fell between the cars. The conductor, No. 241, immediately pulled the bell rope, but before the train was stopped the German was dragged ten feet beyond the end of the platform. It took the trainmen mearly twenty minutes to extricate the old man from his position, as he had become wedged in between the wheels of the forward truck of the second car. Both his legs had been crushed below the knees, and his left hand was injured also. He was insensible, and as soon as an ambulance could be summoned he was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where he died yesterday afternoon. It was ascertained that he was William Lange, a workman in the employ of Joseph Blau, a braid manufacturer at No. 21 Avenue-A. He was about sixty years old, a widower, and lodged somewhere in Ludiow-st. The surgeons at the hospital said that it was doubtful if Lange could recover, and that it would be necessary to amputate both his legs and his left arm if he did not die from the snock.

STRIKE AT GLEN COVE, L. I.

About 200 men employed at the Glen Cove Stareh Works at Gien Cove, L. I., have struck for an increase of wages from $1 12 to $1 38 a div. The strikers have intimidated men who are willing to work, and John Duryea, one of the members of the firm, called upon Sheriff Wight, of Queens County, to preserve the peace and protect nonstrikers. The Sheriff, with Under Sheriff Warnock and fifteen deputies, went to Glen Cove yesterday, but found everything quiet, although serious trouble is apprehended to-day, as the strikers say they will not allow the men to go to work. The sheriff's posse will remain on the ground to prevent any interference by the strikers.

Warrants were issued by Justice Frost yesterday for L. J. Bogardus and Henry Schneider, who are said to be the leaders of the intunidating strikers, and they were arrested. The strikers complain that they are compelled to buy all their goods at the comeany's store, and that they are charged experiments of the strikers and they were arrested. PROFESSOR JORDAN'S CHARGES.

In a public address delivered at Indianapolis a few weeks ago, Prefessor David S. Jordan, of the Indiana University, stated that, on his return some time last fall from a trip to Europe, he had paid several gold coins to a dignified Federal officer to pass his trunks without examination. Professor Jordan has been asked several times to prove his statement. Collector Robertson, in a letter dated January 9, asked the name of the vessel in which he arrived at this port, and shortly afterward invited him to come to New-York in the interest of Cavil Service reform, which was the subject of Professor Jordan's lecture. No satisfactory answer was received, and on January 28 Collector Robertson wrote him the following letter:

A WOMAN'S IMAGINARY WRONGS.

Elizabeth Fox, an elderly woman, living at No. 189 Lexington-ave., yesterday called on the Mayor and asked to have her wrongs redressed. She said that she was a Protestant and had married a Roman Catholic named Savage. Her friends opposed her marriage, and would not associate with her. She had separated from her husband and was now employed in a straw hat factory in the Bowery at $1 per week. She said that vast estates in this city belonged to her, and that she had been swindled out of them by the late Archbishop Hughes and by Cardinal McCloskey. She was told that the Mayor could do nothing for her. Refusing to go away, she was ejected. She then made complaint to Police Captain Leary. It was obvious that her mind was impaired, and Captain Leary had her taken before the magistrate at the Tombs for medical examination. On Friday last the same woman attacked a man in the corridor of the City Hall and beat him over the head with an umbrella. She was seized, and then said that she was mistaken in the man, and was released. was mistaken in the man, and was released.

A LAW TO PREVENT CORNERS.

A LAW TO PREVENT CORNERS.

The resolution offered by David Bingham at the Produce Exchange, a few days ago, at the last grain call, for the appointment of a committee to frame a by-law to prevent "corners" in grain, has caused much comment. Recently a resolution was adopted by the Board of Managers not to recognize the preceedings of a meeting unless it was called in accordance with the by-laws, and the action of Mr. Bingham and others is considered illegal. It is asserted by Mr. Bingham's supporters that the present rules of the Exchange to prevent sharp practices by pools are inadequate, and that the liability of those who may be on either side of the market should be limited. President Parker holds that the rules of the Exchange must be considered ample, since there have been no special complaints. One of the members of the Board of Managers suggested that an amendment be made to provide that any committee or arbitrator or manager who may be called to consider a complaint, who does not decide in favor of both parties to the dispute, should be suspended for three months.

NOT A PAUPER LUNATIC.

Judge Gilbert handed down a decision yesterday, in the suit of the Kings County Commissioners of Charities against James Richmond and the bank in which he had money, to recover for his board while in the Insane Asylum in Flatbush. Richmond, who was a car driver with savings amounting to $5,000, went to the hospital in Flatbush to be treated for swelled legs. He said he was not a pauper, but was treated as such. His money and watch were taken from him, and after a short time the employes said he was insane, and two doctors certified to this without an examination. He was removed to the insane asylum and detained nineteen months, until he ran away. Judge Gilbert, in his o mion, holds that the commitment of Richmond was illegal, as he was not a pauper nor insane, and gave judgment to the defendant. This carried with it a claim of Richmond for the $49 in money and his watch taken from him in the hospital, and $20 a month for his labor during the nineteen months he was at work in the asylum, amounting to $440.

DISEASES

OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM.

The importance of the nervous system, its power over lift and the direct bearing which it has on human happiness, is thoroughly reconfized. Its uses and the damper of overtaking it, whether through intense mental application or by the excessive indulgence of the appetites and propersibles, are proper subjects for consideration. When the nervous system is deranged, it is absolutely necessary to promptly seek advice from an expert who, for a long series of years, has devoted his whole time and attention to this study, and who, from his expertence and practice, has learned to discover at once the cause and as promptly apply the remedy, thus avoiding the painfully slow seeking for the truth so common to the inexperienced, and so annoying to the patient, who, very naturally, wants to know without delay what is the matter, the extent of the derangement, the probabilities of recuperation, and the time required.

If the brain has become exhausted by intense mental application, depriving it of the power of connected thought, it can only recover its strength by being properly fed and nourished by the use of certain systematic methods. It is proclearly the same with the nerves that preside over organic life. The value of this branch of medical practice can scarcely be overtacted, for it reaches marriage, the perpetuation of family names, the securing of hereditary titles, and the retention of estates in the same family.

From a long and large experience in this direction, I have been also to command by my success the thankful appreciation of some of the first families in the city and Nutlea, and every department of the nervous system and the means of recovering its powers, whether of brain, appetite, propensity or passion.
